

MagicKitchen.com Expands Meal Delivery Services

MagicKitchen.com's new MK Meals line meets customers' nutritional & health needs.

Los Altos, CA – (Feb 16th, 2009) –MagicKitchen.com has delivered delicious, chef-prepared frozen meals for years. With their new MK Meals product line, MagicKitchen.com has created a flexible and convenient meal program that can be used for lunches and/or dinners with low sodium, low-carb, diabetic-friendly and portion-controlled meals.

“Time and time again our customers asked for balanced and convenient meals that met their personal dietary requirements. Our new line of MK Meals offers a range of options that help individuals meet USDA health and varied individual dietary requirements without taking away from the pleasures of enjoying great tasting, healthy meals,” says MagicKitchen.com CEO, Greg Miller.

The meals that make up the program menus were initially created and prepared by dieticians for healthcare organizations, and feature recipes that have been through rigorous testing and review. The meals, which include such dishes as oven fried chicken and lasagna with parmesan tomato meat sauce, have earned a 96 percent plus satisfaction rating from customers.

Since MagicKitchen.com launched the MK Meals product line, their meal programs now cater specifically to the diverse needs of its customers, including those looking to:

- Serve Wholesome Family Meals: Nutritionally-savvy parents serve MK Meals at home and also deliver them to aging parents and relatives. The meals provide peace of mind as every dish supports their family or loved one's dietary restrictions and nutritional needs.
- Makes Health a Focus: Americans who order chef-prepared meals from the MK Meals line eat well and avoid the hassle of counting calories or reading labels. Using the MK Meals meal program customers are assured that they get 1/3 of the daily reference intake requirements, based on a 2000 calorie per day diet.
- Enjoy a Complete Meal: MK Meals structures every menu around a main course, two sides, bread and a butter substitute, and a juice, frozen fruit or dessert. These well-planned meals take the stress out of meal time preparations. And, they keep dinnertime interesting with dishes ranging from Chinese-style chicken chop suey to classic chicken tetrazzini.
- Try their meal packages without a fuss or contract. MK Meals are risk-free, as all meals are guaranteed for replacement or refund if the customer is not 100% satisfied.

Interested customers can sample the new meal line by ordering the initial 14 meal package. Whether customers need healthful prepared meals on occasion or on an ongoing basis, MagicKitchen.com's MK Meals will serve their clients' needs.
